VETERANS AND ADDICTION

2 out of 10 veterans who suffer from post-traumatic stress disorder go on to develop SUD, according to the National Center for PTSD.

1 out of 4 veterans of the Iraq and Afghanistan campaigns reports experiencing the symptoms of a mental health disorder, according to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

25% of young veterans aged between 18 and 25 years exhibited the symptoms of SUD or other mental health disorders according to the National Institute on Drug Abuse. This is double the instance reported by veterans aged 26-54 years and 5 times more than for veterans aged 55 years or older.
